

MINDSET PERFORMANCE

Developing soft skills for a hard world

You cannot perform at your best while feeling at your worst, and anything in between is just mediocre.

Everything we do begins in the mind and through the power of thought!

This practical workshop will teach you techniques to recognise and change negative behaviours, both for the self and within others, by helping to understand how to build a can-do attitude as well as achieve a happier work-life balance.

Delivered in Mike's energetic, engaging, and informative style, Mindset Performance gives delegates the knowledge and techniques to better understand the brain and mindset, and to change our pre-conditioned perceptions or perspectives that prevent us from achieving our true potential.

When you look at where the world of business is today and the challenges it faces on multiple levels, investing in this course will help business owners and delegates to develop a more positive, happier workforce and create the inspiring leaders of tomorrow.

All the research shows that a fully engaged employee can be over 60% more productive than a disengaged employee.

About Mike

Mike Monaghan's business career spans over 46 years in the collision industry and over 25 years in business. In 2009 Mike completed the sale of his successful automotive company Motor Vehicle Repairers Association (MVRA) to a FTSE 100 company. Since 2009, Mike has been engaged in several consulting and non-executive director roles in the UK and Internationally for large and small organisations in both corporate and SME sectors.

In 2015/16, Mike realised the high performance mindset development training being delivered to blue chip companies and sporting elite was the missing jigsaw piece in the bodyshop environment. Mike began to modify the world class motivational teachings and tailor it to the bodyshop industry and launched Auto-Motivate.

Mike would describe himself as a natural giver and a person who likes to help others and thrives on seeing them, and their businesses reach even greater levels of success.
